Greenwood Development's "The Ruins" Community Center at Beresford Hall Wins Merit Award.

Columbia, SC – The South Carolina Chapter of The American Institute of Architects recently recognized Thomas and Denzinger, Architects with a Merit Award at their Spring Conference. Thomas and Denzinger designed the community pavilion at Beresford Hall for Greenwood Development.

This year there were 64 entries for evaluation at the conference. Each entry was judged for the success of the solution of the problems presented and the worthiness as determined by the jury for an award of excellence in architecture. Four Merit Awards were given.

Jurors were very complimentary on the dramatic use of forms and materials, the way by which the buildings engaged the landscape and the historical recall of a site with a mixed historical use of commercial and agricultural enterprise.
